

Internships

David Williams is the new Internship Coordinator. He is serving as the point of contact for all students who want to pursue internships both for-credit and not-for-credit.

David's walk-in hours are Tuesdays and Wednesdays 3 - 4:30. Or you may call x6397 to make an appointment.

Career Fairs

Wednesday, September 10, noon - 4:00 p.m. Emory University Career Fair at Emory.

Thursday, October 23, noon - 3:00 p.m., Emory University Graduate and Professional Schools Fair at Emory.

Monday, November 3, Idealist Graduate School Fair, Georgia State University

Thursday, November 13, noon - 3:00 p.m. Georgia Small College Career Fair (14 colleges and universities with student populations under 10,000 co-sponsor)

Externships

Externships will be offered during the week prior to the start of Spring semester, January 5 - 9, 2009. Students must apply for externships and attend an information session and an orientation session during the Fall semester. In an externship, a student is matched with a professional to work for up to one week on a project related to a specific career. This is both a resume enhancer and an opportunity for a student to determine if this really is a good career for her.

Programming

Summer science research opportunities.

Collaborate with the Writing Center on resume, cover letter and recommendation letter crafting.

Collaborate with the Sophomore Year Experience "Sundaes and Strong" career assessment event.

Collaborate with Academic Advising on deciding a major.

Kaplan "Any Test" test drive so that students can practice a grad school admission test.

Law school admission strategy and grad school admission strategy sessions.

Walk in hours

Monday - Thursday 3 - 4:30 p.m. and Friday 8:30 - 10 a.m. for seniors only.

Career Planning Library

Open 24/7 during the academic semester.

Resources include "What Can I Do With this Major," graduate school program brochures, fellowship information, internship opportunities, professional newspapers and magazines.

Director

Catherine Neiner

404-471-6425